

Lady Luck

2006

ROLLERS  RESERVE

Everyone gambles. Some of us in the classic sense, with dice, chips and cards. Even the stingiest of us gamble, although it's not always with money. Some of us take a gamble in our career, or in making a move, and we've all taken the odds on believing we know a short cut at times. Occasionally, Lady Luck herself reaches down and blesses us with her divinity and the gamble pays off.

Inspired by Fortuna, the Roman mythological god of fortune, Lady Luck has always been in our conscience. From the roll of the craps dice in Guys and Dolls, to Sinatra's fickle mistress who he sings to in the 1965 hit Luck Be A Lady, Lady Luck gives and takes as she sees fit. Lady Luck has looked fondly on Sort This Out Cellars and we pay tribute to her with the release of our first Chardonnay.

Produced from 100% Chardonnay grown in the northern Santa Barbara County region of Los Alamos, the cool, foggy morning and warm sunny afternoons of summer bless this Chardonnay. Kissed with a hint of oak, Lady Luck exhibits ripe, green apple and citrus flavors wrapped in medium body with a crisp dry finish.

Lady Luck is sure to turn even the coldest dice hot. So, the next time you're searching for the perfect Chardonnay, pop open a bottle of Lady Luck and celebrate a sure thing.

Proprietors - Jeff Munsey & Michael Cobb

Retail Price: $30